MOLTEN STEEL TAKES LIVES OF 24 PEOPLE

Horrible Catastrophe Occurs at Philadelphia Mill.

THE MEN SIMPLY VANISHED

Thirty-Five at Work and Only Eleven Accounted for, Many of the Latter Being Horribly Injured—Officials of Mill Give No Information Out.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 11.—A disastrous explosion occurred at the Eliza furnaces, of the Jone & Laghlin steel works, Wednesday night, when a large quantity of gas which had accumulated at the base of the furnaces became ignited. Tons of molten metal was showered around the furnaces for a radius of 40 feet.

Out of a force of 35 men employed at the furnace when the explosion occurred, three of them, John Cramer, Andrew Featherka and Gustave Kessler have been taken to the morgue, their bodies horribly mutilated by the fire.

Seven men are confined in the hospitals fatally injured and 24 others have not been accounted for. While the mill officials are inclined to believe that all of the missing men were not cremated in the molten metal, nothing dfienite is known as to their present whereabouts.

Only one man, George Cox, has turned up since the explosion and he says everything happened so quick that doubts whether the men escaped.

As a result of the explosion the charred trunks of seven men are at the morgue and twelve badly burned and crippled foreigners are in the city hospitals, while anxious workers, with picks and shovels are digging through a mass of steel and cinders for the bodies of several more who are still missing.

Of the injured three will probably die.

The scenes at the morgue Thursday were pathetic. The building was besieged by a constant stream of relatives of the unfortunates who lost their lives in the accident. The bodies of the victims were badly burned and are almost unrecognizable, but despite this, five of the seven taken out have been identified. The company officials absolutely refused to allow any one to enter the plant.

E. L. Messler, the superintendent stated that in his opinion the accident was caused by the lessening of one of the steel bands about the bottom of the furnace. It fell, he says, and that made that portion of the shell weak. The great pressure of the steel charge and gas against the weak point resulted in a plate giving way and other plates were naturally affected.

There were 100 tons of steel in the furnace at the time. The loss to the company according to Superintendent Messler will not be less than $50,000. The estimate of damage includes the value of the stock house, pipe house, laboratory and small office buildings which were destroyed by the fire, following the explosion.

Heisland, military secretary of the department of the east and chief of staff and adjutant general of the forces in the march of the allies to the rescue of the legationers besieged at Pekin by the Boxers, in 1901, urged the employment of Chinese labor in the construction of the Panama canal in an address delivered Wednesday before the military service institution on Governors island. He also advocated the repeal of the laws which discriminate against the Chinese.

SHOT HIS WIFE IS THE CHARGE

Savannah Woman at Hospital Perhaps Fatally Wounded.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 11.—E. Leslie Rotureau, a well known young man of the city, and of excellent connections, was arrested and held without bail on a charge of shooting his wife. Mrs. Rotureau is at a hospital with a bullet wound in her side that may prove fatal. The attending physicians are not able to say what the result of the wound may be, because of the course the bullet took.

At first it was stated by both Rotureau and his wife that the wound was the result of an accident, which happened while they were trying to clean Rotureau's pistol. Fearing that she might die, however, Mrs. Rotureau told a sister a different story, saying that she and her husband were quarreling at their home near the city and that she struck him with a whip, which he had caught and used on her in retaliation. Then she caught up the pistol, and they struggled for its possession. It was fired, the bullet striking Mrs. Rotureau after slightly injuring her husband's hand. The case has provoked much interest. Rotureau is a lumber inspector, and was a member of company B, of the second Georgia regiment in the Spanish war.

Greene-Gaynor In Discussion.

Macon, Ga., Jan. 11.—Special Assistant Attorney General Marion Erwin left here Wednesday evening in company with his wife for Chicago, where he goes to complete his brief in the appeal case of John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Greene, in the famous Savannah harbor cases. He has been in Macon for several days working up material at this point. As a result the work has been almost completed and the case has been set down for a hearing before the circuit court of appeals in New Orleans on March 5. The date formerly fixed was January 7, but owing to failure to get tarnscript of record ready and other papers and documents in the case it was necessary to carry it over until the March date. Mr. Erwin will devote his time to preparing to fight the appeal against Green and Gaynor.

May Have Been Missing Steamship.

New York, Jan. 11.—Hope for the safety of the steamer Ponce now ten days overdue from Porto Rico, was revived late Wednesday night by news from Pensacola, Fla., that wireless messages had been intercepted there believed to be from the passengers of the Ponce, conveying greetings of the season to Governor Winthrop, of Porto Rico. The message was picked up from the steamer Caracas, but the agents of the Ponce think this is a mistake and that the message came from the steamer Maracas. It is thought the steamer Maracas, towing the Ponce may have signalled a message to the Caracas, which sailed from New York for Porto Rico on Jan. 5, and that the last named ship sent the indefinite wire message attributed to the passengers of the vessel Ponce.

JUDGE WANTS TROOPS TO PROTECT HIS LIFE

Judge Carnes Says His Life Is In Danger.

SAYS HE FEARS ASSASSINATION

Jackson, Ky., is Filled with Armed Men and Trial Judge Wires Governor for Soldiers to Protect Him from Men Seeking His Life.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 11.—A special to the Evening Post from Jackson, Ky., says:

This little city, which has been the scene of much turbulence and bloodshed in the past few years, is intensely excited over a condition bordering on a reign of terror. It is a result of the same cause which has brought about all previous trouble—the feud between the Hargis faction and their opponent, the incidents of Wednesday night and Thursday revolving about the trial of former County Judge Jas. Hargis, and former Sheriff Edward Callahan, on the charge of murdering Dr. Cox four years ago.

Judge Carnes, especially assigned by Governor Beckham to try the cases, fears for his life and Wednesday night asked the governor for a detail of militia to protect him while in Jackson.

The jury in the case has not been selected, as it has been found impossible to secure 12 men from the county of Breathitt who are not afraid to pass judgment on their fellow townsmen and most powerful citizen. The people of Jackson want the trial removed from Jackson as far as possible. Judge Carnes, has however, signified his intention of holding the trial in Jackson, but will appoint a special officer to go to another county and bring in a special venir of men.

There was a conference between the attorneys for the commonwealth and several parties closely identified with the prosecution which lasted until long after midnight. It was decided to ask the court of appeals for a writ of prohibition restraining Judge Carnes from continuing the present trial. At 6 o'clock Thursday morning Attorney Jouett, with the petition in his possession, left for Lexington. Meanwhile he engaged an automobile to meet him at Lexington and the thirty miles between that city and Frankfort will be covered as rapidly as possible in order to reach the court of appeals. If this writ is granted, its issuance will, of course, stop the trial.

The commonwealth's attorney also sent with Mr. Jouett a statement setting forth the state of lawlessness which exists in Jackson.

Jackon is filled with mountain men armed to the teeth. Attorney W. A. Young, who is conducting the defense, is greatly alarmed and will not venture on the street. Attorney Byrd has been waited on by numerous friends and warned to be careful. It is believed that should a riot break out, Attorneys Byrd and Jouett will be the first men to be picked off by the Hargis faction, as these two men have been relentless in their efforts to to pnish the Hargis faction.

During Wednesday afternoon's session of the court, twenty men armed with revolvers were lined up on each side. Armed men made several attempts to reach Judge Carnes in his room at the hotel Wednesday night, but were prevented.

The friends of James B. Marcum and James Cockrell, of whose assassination Hargis, Callahan, Smith and Abner are charged, are arriving in Jackson and taking sides against the accused men and Judge Carnes.

If is said Judge Carnes will not again convene court unless troops arrive in Jackson.

Calls for Troops.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 11.—Special Judge Carnes, trying James Hargis, Ed Callahan, John Smith and John Abner on the charge of assassinating Dr. B. D. Cox at Jackson, four years ago, late Wednesday night wired to Governor Beckham, asking that fifty soldiers be sent to guard him against assasination, as his life is in danger. Civil authorities, he says, are powerless to protect him. Jackson is filled with armed men.

A PRAYERFUL MOB.

Lynches a Lunatic For Double Murder in Iowa.

Waterloo, Iowa, Jan. 11.—A crowd of more than one thousand men battered through the walls of the jail at Charles City, Iowa, with railroad irons and tore hinges from the doors and took James Cullen out and lynched him for wife murder.

Cullen, who murdered his wife and stepson Tuesday morning at 4 a. m., was the man lynched Wednesday.

The murder was premeditated. Cullen telephoning for his brother. The angry mob took Cullen two blocks from the main part of the city and hung him to the county bridge over the Cedar river. The mob conducted prayer meeting and asked Cullen to pray.

Cullen had been demented for over 25 years. He was 60 years of age. The sheriff offered no resistance and was easily overpowered.

The mob was composed of many of the leading citizens of the town, and even the leaders made no attempt to disguise themselves.

Cullen fought like a tiger, but was overpowered. He declared that his wife and son had attacked him and that he had killed them in self-defense. Four or five ministers and a large number of women were in the crowd.

Hanging in North Carolina.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 11.—Cover-Walker, the negro who shot Colonel L. Banks Holt in the latters home, at Graham, N. C., one night several weeks ago, and was convicted of burglary, was executed at the Graham jail. On the scaffold he repudiated the confession made in jail and declared that he did not shoot Holt. Colonel Holt is one of the most prominent men in the state and widely known as a leading cotton manufacturer and public man. His life was in doubt for some time after he was shot by the negro, Walker, and he was confined to the hospital for several weeks, but is now recovered.

Revolution of No Consequence.

City of Mexico, Jan. 11.—Parties here, well informed on Central American affairs, are of the opinion that the Honduras revolution will be of no consequence. It is stated that the only man who could hope for success in leading an uprising against President Bonilla, of Honduras, is the revolutionary leader of the same name, who is practically a prisoner in Salvador. Salvador is said to have an agreement with President Bonilla, of Honduras, not to allow the revolutionist to leave Salvador.

Dr. Judson Paralyzed.

Greenville, S. C., Jan. 11.—Dr. Charles Hallette Judson, Furman University's grand old man, who has for 55 years been intimately connected with the university, lies in a critical condition as a result of a stroke of paralysis, which occurred Monday at noon. His left side is partially paralyzed, also his throat. The attending physicians say that his stroke is the beginning of the final dissolution. They give out no hope whatever for any permanent improvement at his advanced age.

Gendarme Chief Killed.

Lodz, Russian Poland, Jan. 11.—Colonel Parko Andrieff, chief of the Gendarmes of the Lodz district, was shot and killed on Pulunlowa street. Pulunlowa street was closed by troops and the police began making a strict search of all the houses fronting on the thoroughfare.

STATE ORGANIZER MADE GOOD TALK

Effort Will Be Made to Organize Retail Merchants' Association.

IMPORTANT LAWS ADVOCATED

Next Legislature Will Be Asked to Pass a Garnishment Law to Compel Delinquent Debtors to Pay Their Bills. Good Move For Business Men.

G. J. Williams of Jacksonville, organizer of the Florida Retail Merchants' Association who came to Gainesville in response to an invitation of the Gainesville Board of Trade, addressed a small audience of grocers and business men at the court house Friday night on the importance of organizing for mutual protection of the retailer.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor W. R. Thomas, who introduced Mr. Williams. Mr. Williams explained in a clever manner the purposes of the Florida Retail Grocers' Association, and stated that a bill is now being drafted and will be presented at the next session of the Legislature which is destined to protect the retail merchant from fradulent debtors, who purchase his goods and refuse to pay for them. There is at present no redress for the merchant, but this bill contains a garnishment clause of a certain percentage of a man's income, which will compel him to pay his bill, if passed.

Mr. Williams also advocated the passage of a bill which held a man and wife jointly responsible for the payment of a bill.

The speaker touched upon the National pure food law, and said that the merchant buying goods should secure from the manufacturer, or wholesaler, as the case may be, a guarantee that the goods purchased would come up to the requirements of the pure food regulations. He said many other things of deep interest to the merchant, all of which were well received.

It is probable that an association will be formed here, to constitute a part of the State association.

The State association will hold its annual meeting in Gainesville on March 18-19 The association has been meeting each year in Jacksonville.

Meeting Library Association.

The annual meeting of the Gainesville Library Association will be held in the library rooms, West Liberty street, on the afternoon of Tuesday, January 15, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may come up for consideration. This meeting will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and a full attendance is desired.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

A DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION.

Mrs. E. E. Cannon Entertains in Honor Mesdames Goodwin and Broome.

Another of a series of delightful social functions which are being given by Gainesville's society this season was the reception at the home of Mrs. E. E. Cannon, East Church street, Thursday afternoon, in honor Mesdames W. B. Goodwin and W. S. Broome. There was an absence of formality, and general congeniality was the order of the afternoon.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Watson Porter and Miss Nora Norton. In the receiving line were Mesdames E. E. Cannon, W. B. Goodwin, W. S. Broome and Groover, of Jacksonville. As the guests passed the receiving line they were ushered to the punch bowl by Mrs. J. W. Patton and Miss Kenneth Grieves. Presiding at the punch bowl were Mesdames F. H. Craighill and John Chesnut.

The guests were shown into the dining-room by Mesdames W. B. Taylor and F. D. Warner, where delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, bon bons, nuts and coffee were served. The refreshments were served in novel shapes, the cream being moulded into the form of immense pink and white roses, that being the color scheme. The icing of the dainty cakes bore the monogram of the hostess.

The tables were gracefully presided over by Mrs. Christopher of Jacksonville and Mrs. B. F. Hampton, and in the dining-room the ladies were assisted by Misses Lois and Mae Hale, Margaret Wagner and Annie Cannon. Mesdames James B. Dell and Cadwallader presided at the coffee urns

The home throughout was tastefully decorated in white and pink carnations, palms and ferns.

In all, this was a most enjoyable affair and will be long remembered by those who were present.

An Interesting Meeting.

An interesting and largely attended meeting of Gainesville Lodge No. 999, B. P. O. E., was held Thursday evening, at which three candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

In addition to these initiations five or six new applications were read and favorably acted upon.

The Elks is a growing order in Gainesville, and already has a large membership. The order is growing more popular every day.

Immense Bodies of Lands to be Withheld From Homestead.

MAY MAKE FOREST RESERVE

It Is Said That United States General Land Office Will Not List Lands For Homestead Purposes For Present at Least, Perhaps Not at All.

There seems to be a general misunderstanding of the people of Florida in regard to the lands of the Forbes grant, comprising about 200,000 acres of public lands in Calhoun, Washington and Jackson counties, west of the Apalachicola river, recently diverted back to the ownership of the United States government, after a long and complicated litigation.

As a matter of information, it is authoritatively announced that none of these lands in question will be open for entry at an early date, if at all, as the United States general land office has decided to withhold them for the present at least, and may eventually make of the tract an extensive national forest reserve, which is one of Florida's greatest needs at this time.

The majority of the lands involved in this case are very fertile and heavily timbered, and would make desirable possessions for either purpose. The national government's attention has been called to the rapidly decreasing forests of Florida, however, and the proper authorities are determined to protect these forests insofar as it is possible to do so.

It is understood that numerous letters of inquiry from every section of the State have been received by the United States land office here regarding these lands.

His wounds were dressed by Dr. Blackshear, who then sent him to the hospital in Waycross to recover from his wounds.

MANNERS AT TABLE.

The Etiquette of Eating In the Seventeenth Century.

An account of hospitality in 1629 gives a good idea of the manner in which a country gentleman of the period lived. Dinner and supper were brought in by the servants with their hats on, a custom which is corroborated by Fynes Moryson, who says that, being at a knight's house who had many servants to attend him, they brought in the meats with their heads covered with blue caps. After washing their hands in a basin they sat down to dinner, and Sir James Pringle said grace. The viands seemed to have been plentiful and excellent—"big pottage, long kale, bowe of white kale," which is cabbage; "brach soppe," powdered beef, roast and boiled mutton, a venison pie in form of an egg, goose. Then they had cheese, cut and uncut, and apples. But the close of the feast was the most curious thing about it.

The tablecloth was removed, and on the table were put a "towel the whole breadth of the table and half the length of it, a basin and ewer to wash, then a green carpet laid on, then one cup of beer set on the carpet, then a little long lawn serviter plaited over the corner of the table and a glass of hot water set down also on the table; then be there three boys to say grace—the first, the thanksgiving; the second, the Pater Noster; the third, prayer for a blessing of God's church. The good man of the house, his parents, kinfolk and the whole company then do drink hot waters, so at supper, then to bed, the collation which (is) a stoupe of all."—Scottish Review.

BRAIN QUALITY.

It Is of Just as Much Importance as the Quantity.

The brain of Daniel Webster weighed fifty-six or fifty-seven ounces, that of Napoleon Bonaparte about the same. This is about three pounds and a half. These were exceeded by the brain of Cuvier, the great French naturalist, which weighed between fifty-nine and sixty ounces, and that of the French surgeon Dupuytren, which weighed fifty-eight ounces. The average weight of the brain of man is about fifty ounces and of women forty-five ounces. The maximum weight of the healthy adult brain is about sixty-four ounces and the minimum thirty-one ounces. Men of great intellectual power have generally if not always possessed large brains. The quality of the brain is, however, quite as important as the quantity, so that a large brain does not of necessity constitute a great man. The size of the brain is not in proportion to the physical development of the body, either in animals or in man. The horse has a brain less in weight than the smallest adult human brain; that of a whale seventy-five feet long was found to weigh not quite twice as much as that of a man. Even in men there is no fixed relation between the size of the body and that of the brain. A small man may have a large brain and a big man a small brain.

London's First Balloon Ascent.

When Lunardi made the first balloon ascent from London in 1784 he had for fellow passengers a cat, a dog and a pigeon. Such was the excitement caused by this ascent that a jury, deliberating on the fate of a criminal, returned a hasty verdict of acquittal in order not to miss the spectacle, while King George III. broke up a meeting of his council to watch the progress of the balloon. It was in the following year, 1785, that an adventurous Dublin undergraduate, Mr. Maguire, made a balloon ascent and was actually knighted by the lord lieutenant for his courage.

BLOOD POISON

CURE YOURSELF AT HOME

Most persons who are afflicted with Contagious Blood Poison hesitate to go to a physician for several reasons. In the first place the expense is heavy, and they know that the inevitable treatment will be mercury and potash, strong minerals that act with disastrous effects on the delicate parts of the system, and which do not, after all, really cure the disease. What they want is a safe, reliable treatment that can be taken at home and a perfect cure made of this loathsome disorder without unnecessary exposure or expense. Such a remedy is S. S. S.—it is the only medicine that goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and drives out the last trace of the poison so that there are never any signs of its return. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form, and after removing the disease from the circulation builds up every part of the system by its fine vegetable tonic properties. S. S. S. attacks the trouble at its head and not only permanently cures the disease for the one afflicted, but so purifies the blood that future offspring is insured against infection. S. S. S. may be taken in the privacy of your home and a perfect cure made of this hateful and loathsome trouble. For the assistance of those who are curing themselves with S. S. S. we have prepared a special book on Contagious Blood Poison which contains instructions of great value to all blood poison sufferers. We will be glad to send a copy of this book free, and if additional instructions or advice is wanted, our physicians will furnish it without charge.

Levees Liable to Break.

New Orleans, Jan. 11.—The present high water crest coming down the Mississippi River has caused State Engineer Lewis to issue a warning that unless Ocean liners run slower below New Orleans, a section of country almost 30 miles long, will be in danger of inundation from breaking of the levees. These levees being incomplete, the wash of the staemers are retarding their construction. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of orange groves, it is said, may be ruined by such an overflow, five small settlements will be flooded and that part of the country will be cut off from communication with the railroad which now supplies it with food.

Bodes Ill for Sugar Industry.

New York, Jan. 11.—The Tribune says advices have been received by sugar merchants in this city from Cuba of a nature that bodes ill for the sugar industry of the island. The announcement is made that Nicholas Castana, of Cienfuegos, in the sugar growing district will refuse to make any loans upon the 1907-8 crop. Senor Castana, who is a Spanish banker and probably the wealthiest man in Cuba, bases his attitude on the intention of the United States to again withdraw the provisional insular government, and turn it over once more to the Cubans.

Low Death Rate at Crescent City.

New Orleans, Jan. 10.—The annual report of the city board of health as made public Wednesday, shows the death rate to be the lowest for any single year on record—19.99. The board Tuesday night suspended a physician who had failed to report a case of leprosy occurring in his practice.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Held On Suspicion.

Macon, Ga., Jan. 11.—Two young men in the city prison are anxiously awaiting news from Detroit. For several days these men have been stopping in Macon soliciting funds for the Switchmen's union, No. 15. It is understood that money for this purpose was obtained from Mr. O. P. Willingham, E. Wolff, N. M. Block and others. Sundry acts of the men looked suspicious, and at the request of one of the parties from whom they obtained money, they were arrested, giving names as Charles C. Randall and H. E. Jones. They were locked up pending investigation.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Good.

A. H. Thornes, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder troubles for years, passing gravel and stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure; then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1,000 worth of good." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Experiments conducted by the light house board in this country, the British admiralty and the Danish government supplemented by some smaller tests made by Rear Admiral Evans, submarine signalling by means of bells to indicate the approach of a ship in the thick weather or nightfall to the shore and steps are now about to be taken to equip most of the vessels of the navy with the proper devices for transmitting and receiving the bell signals under water.

Severe Storm in California.

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 11.—In the amount of precipitation the storm that has drenched Southern California during the past four days is the heaviest in eighteen years. The storm has been severe in its effects north and east of Los Angeles. Landslides south of Santa Barbara had at last accounts tied up four or five passenger trains bound for this city. Four or five lives are known to have been lost as an indirect result of the storm.

Powder Plant Destroyed.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 11.—The plant and buildings of the Standard Powder company, of Pittsburg, located at Horrell station, four miles from Hollidaysburg, were destroyed by an explosion Thursday. No lives were lost. The explosion was caused by a fire which started in one of the buildings. The damage done to the wrecked plant will exceed $100,000.

FOUND A HOLE FOR HIM.

Experience of a Fresh Young Man In His Start In Business.

Here is something that should appeal to every young man starting out in business: "When I came to New York," said a bright fellow to me, "I engaged by the year as entry clerk with a large dry goods house. I soon found out I couldn't get along with the superintendent, a dictatorial, domineering man. Being young and brash, I 'sassed' him, which made matters all the worse for me. At last my position became unbearable, and I quietly looked around for another place. The manager of a great grocery house asked where I worked and why I wanted to make a change. I told him in all frankness, and he asked me to come around in a few days. I guess I talked altogether too much. When I called he said, 'I have no place open at present, but I guess I can find a hole for you.' That was enough. I went back to my store and resigned.

"The next morning I presented myself before the manager of the grocery house. 'As I told you,' said he, 'I have no place open at present,' and walked away. 'But,' said I, 'didn't you tell me you would find a hole for me?' 'I did,' he answered back. 'Ain't you in it?' He then added, 'Mr. R., the superintendent of the firm you have been working for is my brother.' I have worked since then with my hands in my pockets, and the lesson took a good deal of the freshness out of me. It taught me to look before I leaped."—New York Press.

Wise Counsel From the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will positively cure this distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles I was completely cured—so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy." Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. Price 50c.

Pretty Names For Books.

The following are some of the curious titles of old English books:

"A Most Delectable Sweet Perfumed Nosegay For God's Saints to Smell At."

"Biscuit Baked In the Oven of Charity, Carefully Conserved For the Chickens of the Church, the Sparrows of the Spirit and the Sweet Swallows of Salvation."

"A Sigh of Sorrow For the Sinners of Zion Breathed Out of a Hole In the Wall of an Earthly Vessel Known Among Men by the Name of Samuel Fish" (a Quaker who had been imprisoned).

"Eggs of Charity Layed For the Chickens of the Covenant and Boiled With the Water of Divine Love. Take Ye Out and Eat."

"The Spiritual Mustard Pot to Make the Soul Sneeze With Devotion."

Most of these were published in the time of Cromwell.

Lawyers at Westminster.

Of the professions and trades represented in the house of commons the law holds first place, but in early days no class of men gave greater trouble than the lawyers, and many were the attempts made to keep them out of the house. James I., when the parliament of 1624-25 was to be chosen, advised electors "not to choose curious and wrangling lawyers, who may seek reputation by stirring needless questions." This and other antagonistic counsel in the past and present has, however, done little to stem the tide of lawyers which flows at each election into the house.—Strand Magazine.

The Ideal Life.

To live content with small means, to seek elegance rather than luxury and refinement rather than fashion, to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich; to study hard, think quickly, talk gently, act frankly; to listen to stars, babes and sages with open heart; to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never—in a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious grow up through the common.—William Henry Channing.

Those Good Old Days.

"Dear, I wish you would lay down your novel and come and button my shirt for me."

"Dear me, I never saw such a helpless man! I'd like to know how you buttoned your shirts before you were married."

"My shirts had buttons on them in those days."—Indianapolis Star.

The East Coast of Florida, the greatest winter resort in the world, is now swarming with tourists, and the palatial hotels at St. Augustine, Ormond, Palm Beach and Miami will soon be full to overflowing.

Judge Syd L. Carter of this city is engaged in the preparation of a bill which he intends to try and get through the next Legislature covering the subject of admissions to practice law, disbarment proceedings, and disqualifications of judges. A few years ago the Legislature passed a bill creating a board of examiners of applicants for admission to the bar. Judge Carter, as attorney for a relator, brought mandamus proceedings against the Judge of the Fifth Circuit to test the validity of the act, and the Supreme Court held it unconstitutional. Judge Carter thinks the bill he is preparing will not be open to these constitutional objections, while the object sought by the act set aside will be attained.

There is a disposition on the part of some members of the City Council to carry the paving question to extremes. Take for instance the proposition to pave Pearl street from the S. A. L. south to the A. C. L. track with crushed rock. It is simply an outrageous imposition upon property owners to tax them for such purpose. That part of the street which it is proposed to pave with crushed rock is already paved with good hard rock, which was done by private subscription, and all the street needs to put it in good condition is some repairs in the way of filling in holes, etc. The fact is that the worse part of the route to the cemetery is from the south end of University street by the packing-house to the S. A. L. track, the entire distance of which is knee-deep in mud during wet weather and knee-deep in sand in dry weather. The City Council would best subserve the interests of all concerned by paving this portion of the route to the cemetery, as well as constructing a substantial bridge across Sweetwater branch south of the A. C. L. track, than by paving Pearl street with crushed rock.

In a round-about reply to an editorial in The Sun of January 2d, The Elevator of January 10th says: "The Sun man has openly advocated the cause of one party indicted for embezzling a large sum of money, and went on the bond of one charged with attempting to corrupt public justice by bribing a member of the grand jury." Unlike the narrow-minded individual who edits The Elevator, the editor of The Sun does not consider a person guilty of crime until so declared by a jury of his peers, and we have not yet heard of the conviction of either of the parties referred to. The charge of embezzlement was proven untrue in the superior court of Fulton county, Ga., and we would not be surprised if the same verdict was rendered in Alachua county. As to going on the bond of the other party, we have no apology to make for so doing. The fact is that the editor of The Elevator took the word of some one no more capable of telling the truth than himself and published the libelous statement that "the jail is full of persons charged with crime unindicted," when there were only two prisoners in the jail at the time, and he is now endeavoring to crawl out of the hole he has gotten himself into.

ISRAELITES IN POLITICS.

Says the Live Oak Democrat: "The election of Simon Guggenheim as United States Senator from Colorado is noteworthy as being the entrance of another member of the Hebrew race into the highest legislative circles of the country, and another nail in the coffin of that vulgar prejudice which has insisted that the Jews were a proscribed race. There are few things more wonderful in human annals during the past two thousand years than the unconquerable vitality of the Jewish people under persecution and repression that would have exterminated a weaker race; and now that every legal discrimination against them has been removed in most civilized countries the splendid genius of this marvelous people is lighting up the current annals of Europe and America in a way to make bigotry silent, if not ashamed. The New York Tribune tells us about Jews in the Senate as follows: 'Simon Guggenheim will be the sixth Jew to sit as a member in the United States Senate. The first Jew chosen to that honor was David L. Yulee, who represented Florida from March, 1840, to March, 1852. He was born in the West Indies, and his name was David Levy, by which he was known when elected a member of the House of Representatives in 1841. The second in the Senate was Judah P. Benjamin, who served from 1852 to 1857. He also was born in the West Indies. He represented Louisiana. Benjamin F. Jonas was born in Kentucky and represented Louisiana in the Senate. Joseph Simon was a Senator from Oregon from 1898 to 1903. Isador Raynor was chosen as a Senator from Maryland in 1904.'"

NO REST FOR EDITORS.

An exchange says the editor of today has to get his nose down to the grind stone and keep it there sixteen hours per day and 365 days in the year, or he falls by the wayside. There are men who quit work Saturday night and rest until Monday morning. They lay aside business cares at five or six o'clock every evening and do not resume them until seven or eight the next morning. Not so your editor. He has no elegant leisure. He knows no hours, no Sunday, no night. When he goes to a party, or to church, or on an alleged pleasure trip, it is all in the line of duty. Withal, your editor man is a cheerful, longsuffering soul, going about doing good in his humble way. He returns good for evil. He writes long puffs of church sociables, and in return thereof, accepts a chunk of cake that would sink an ironclad. He notes the arrival of all the babies in his neighborhood and eternally perjures his soul in telling how pretty they are. He rejoices with the gay and mourns with those who are sad. He booms every enterprise which makes his community rich and goes about himself clothed in gunny sack coats and one suspender. He glories over the fortune of his neighbor, and meekly eats his own repast of boiled corn cobs and colored labels off tomato cans. He can write a sermon, an account of a prize fight, a political speech, an obituary notice, split wood, pitch hay, wash dishes, preside at a camp meeting, curry horses, quote law, gospel, or anything else at a moment's notice.

The true solution of the marriage and divorce question lies with the homes more than with the Legislatures. It is more a matter for education and training than of legislation. The girl whose early education has been gained on the street, whose selfishness has been gratified at the expense of her parents and whose preparation for marriage has lacked an acquaintance with the common duties of the homekeeper, is a standing candidate for the divorce court. The young man who has grown up without responsibility, who has wasted his youth and pawned his manhood to idle and dissolute habits, is another. The ministers who are assing the State to prevent divorce and repress marriage have their responsibility in these cases, many of whom have been of their flock and under their spiritual supervision. The parents are mostly responsible for the negligence and mistaken kindness that unfits children for the duties of life. Good fathers usually train good husbands, and good mothers usually produce good wives. Like prohibition, the question of marriage and divorce seems to rest more upon the early training of the individual than with the law. Educate, not legislate, is the motto for the reformer.

THE DOOM OF VENICE

IT MAY BE TO LIE IN THE BOSOM OF THE ADRIATIC.

The Famous Bells of St. Mark's May Toll on Ocean's Depths Like Those of Old Port Royal—The Sunken Cities of the World.

It is believed by many that Venice is sinking into the Adriatic and that she gradually will disappear beneath the waters of the great lagoon from which her palace crowned islands arise. Other cities have gone that way before her, and ships now sail over spots which were once teeming with a populous life.

At the entrance to the harbor of Kingston, Jamaica, the original city of Port Royal lies fathoms deep beneath the blue and sunlit waters of the Caribbean sea. A narrow strip of land, on which are a small settlement and a fort, is all that is left of what was once the richest and wickedest town in the West Indies. It was the resort of pirates, who rested there from their depredations and made the city hideous with their revelry. But these pirates brought great stores of their loot to the city, and its commerce grew and flourished. Palaces and churches were built, a pirate often striving by a rich endowment of a church to square his accounts with heaven.

Throughout the greater part of the seventeenth century no town in the western world was so magnificent as to its buildings or so luxurious as to its habits as Port Royal. Then one day in 1692 the anger of the Lord shook the island of Jamaica, and the greater part of Port Royal sank beneath the sea, carrying with it hundreds of its inhabitants. Towers, churches, palaces and forts went down, many of them not tumbling in ruins by the shock, but sinking bodily beneath the waves.

On a bright day, sailing over the spot where Port Royal once stood, one can look far down through the clear water and see the remains of the city still standing there on the ocean bottom, with fishes swimming about among its towers and great tropical seaweeds waving from its sunken walls.

The negroes of Jamaica—and some white people, too—will tell you that before a storm the sunken bell of the great cathedral which went down with the city on that awful day in 1692 can be heard distinctly tolling below the waves, rung as a warning by the ghostly hands of the spirits of departed buccaneers which haunt the submarine city. People who do not believe in ghosts, but think they have heard the tolling of the bell, say the explanation is that when the city sank the great bell of the cathedral was not thrown from its place, but still hangs as it originally did. The coming storm before it reaches Jamaica stirs up the waters of the Caribbean and sends in upon the shore deep waves, which roll through the sunken city and set the bell a-tolling.

Another sunken city of renown is Baiae, that splendid resort on the Italian coast where Nero and Caligula "reveled and drank deep." A straggling village and heaps of marble ruins still stand upon the shore and bear the name of Baiae, but the greater part of the city lies beneath the waters of the Mediterranean, and ruins from Nailes go out there to gaze down into the waters and try to catch a glimpse of the submerged city.

The resort of all the wealthy nobles of Rome when Rome was mistress of the world, Baiae was a marvel of luxurious splendor. Palace after palace was built on the shore, and architects designed magnificent structures extending out into the sea.

When Rome decayed and the Goths ravaged Italy, Baiae was sacked by the invaders. Soon after the city began to sink. First the buildings which had their foundation in the water subsided beneath the waves, and then the sea made an attack on the land. Gradually the shore line receded, and the Mediterranean flowed through the streets where Hadrian had driven his imperial chariot and Horace had walked thinking of his next poem.

These promontories, crowned with grand towers and gorgeous palaces, were undermined and toppled into the deep until at last the major part of the splendid city was submerged. Its disappearance was not sudden, like that of Port Royal, and due to some convulsion of nature, but Baiae went down to its death gradually, as Venice is said to be going.

In Holland the subsidence of the land has brought it about that many towns once populous are now covered by the sea. The old Roman camp at Brittenburg, after sinking beneath the waves, emerged again in 1520, only to disappear, and its remains now lie in deep water opposite the town of Katwijk. The original Katwijk itself now is beneath the waters, as also are the original towns of Scheveningen, Domburg and Egmond. In fact, a succession of towns bearing these names is now at the bottom of the sea, for they repeatedly have been rebuilt farther inland as the land sunk and the waves came in to take possession.

The Goodwin sands, large and dangerous shoals off the southeast coast of England, were once above the water and formed a flourishing estate, the property of Earl Godwin. There was no city on the Godwin estate when it subsided beneath the sea, but several small villages went down to the deep when the tract of country gradually disappeared beneath the waters.

There are legends which may or may not be true of lost cities sunk at the bottom of Swiss lakes.—New York Mail.

Why,

should your baby suffer? When he is fretful and restless don't experiment on him and use any old thing your neighbor recommends. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, greatest known medicine and cure for all children's diseases. It is mild in its action, builds up the system, makes thin puny babies fat. Mrs. J. C. Smith, Tampa, Fla., writes: "My baby was thin and sickly, could not retain its food and cried all night. I used one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and in a few days baby was laughing, fat and well." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Early Trusts.

Trusts were sometimes dealt with summarily in old England. For in times the records of the Brewers' company show that "on Monday, July 1, 1422, Robert Chichele, the mayor of the city, sent for the masters and wardens of the most worthy of our company to appear at the guildhall for [illegible] about the price and quantity of malt. Thereupon Whittington, the late mayor, declared that the brewers had ridden into the country and forestalled the malt, to raise its price. They were convicted in the penalty of £20 ($100), which objecting to, the masters were ordered to be kept in prison in the chamberlain's custody until they should pay it or find security for the payment thereof."

Cured of Lung Trouble.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at all drug stores. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Itching Palm Oil.

"Palm oil," a synonym for "graft," is not at all a novelty in this sense. In 1627 Middleton wrote that "palm oil will make a pursuivant relent." The sixteenth and seventeenth centuries reveled in varieties of the metaphor. Greene speaks of rubbing palms with "the oile of angels," a humorous allusion to the coin named after the angelic figure stamped upon it, and "oil of angels" seems to have been quite a common joke in England. Another writer has a reference to "anointing" an ecclesiastic in the fist "with Indian oyle." Both "anointing" and "greasing" were frequently used to mean bribing, even without special mention of the hand as the part greased. Dryden has "the greas'd advocate."

Spider Web Fishing Nets.

The natives of New Guinea employ extraordinary fishing nets of spider's web to capture fish weighing up to a pound. They fix bamboos bent in the shape of a landing frame in the jungle, and the spiders weave their net all over the frame. The method of fishing is to watch for a passing fish and then to dip it out and throw it on dry land.

Carrie Nation

certainly smashed a hole in the barrooms of Kansas, but Ballard's Horehound Syrup has smashed all records as a cure for coughs, bronchitis, influenza and all pulmonary diseases. T. C. H—, Horton, Kansas, writes: "I have never found a medicine that would cure a cough so quickly as Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it for years." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

UNPROFITABLE FEEDING

Intelligent stock raisers know that a certain amount of feed is necessary to keep an animal alive. They might feed that amount as long as it lives, and it would never gain a pound.

There is no profit in that kind of feeding. The kind that pays is the kind that builds flesh rapidly. If it takes twenty pounds of food each day to keep a sheep alive, twenty-five pounds a day will make it gain flesh. It's the extra five that brings the profit. The first five pounds amounts to nothing, nor does the second or third or fourth five pounds.

It's the same way with advertising. You have to do a certain amount to overcome the resistance of the public.

You have to do a certain amount of advertising to make them wake up to the fact that you are in business at all. You have to pay a certain amount to keep your advertising alive. What you pay above that amount brings profit.

Some advertisers fail because they do not use enough space. They use barely enough or sometimes not quite enough to make the advertising self sustaining. A little bit more would make it profitable. It is better to advertise a little too much than not quite enough.—Charles Austin Bates.

Some of our advertisers could enlarge their space with profit.

WEIGHT FLUCTUATIONS.

A Man May Gain and Lose Five Pounds In the Day.

"A dinner like this increases one's weight two and a half pounds," said a physiologist as he finished his more than generous meal. "An average dinner increases the weight two pounds two ounces. Did you ever consider how the weight fluctuates night and day?

"We lose in bed at night two pounds six ounces. Between breakfast and lunch we lose fourteen ounces. Between lunch and dinner we lose ten ounces more. Total loss, four pounds fourteen ounces. That goes on every day of our lives.

"At breakfast we gain one pound twelve ounces; at lunch, one pound; at dinner, as I said before, two pounds two ounces. Total gain, four pounds fourteen ounces.

"Thus, day by day, gaining nearly five pounds, our weight remains uniform. If we ate but a half or a third what we do, it is logical to suppose that our organs, digestive and so on, would have but half as much work to do and that our brains in consequence would be able to do twice as much. That is the logical supposition, and no doubt it is the correct one, but man is still too nearly animal to eat only what he needs. He insists upon eating till he can hold no more."

Saved by the Apostles' Creed.

The value of a religious education was once experienced by the skeptic Hume. He fell off a temporary bridge connecting old and new Edinburgh and sank in a bog. After many cries for assistance an old woman drew near and began to make preparations for saving him. But as soon as she saw who it was she would save she desisted and bade him stay where he was. "I am no atheist," protested Hume. "I assure you, good woman, you are mistaken." "Well, then, if you are not an atheist," she cried, "you can say your belief, and if you cannot do that I will be no aid to save an infidel." Hume accordingly, embogged in the swamp—de profundis—recited the Apostles' Creed and, having made no mistake in the recital, was duly saved by this severe Samaritan. If he had failed—

Exhibits In Law Cases.

What are known as "exhibits" in law cases range from sheets of paper to boilers and other large articles. At various times an omnibus, a motor car and a cab have been on view in the private roadway by the side of the London law courts, and as they could not be brought into the witness box the judge and jury have had to go out and inspect them in the open. One of the most ponderous "exhibits" of this kind was a large ship's boiler furnace, which was conveyed from Swansea for inspection.—London Standard.

of living is to have good health. Use Herbine and you will have bushels of joy. You need not be blue, fretful and have that bad taste in your mouth. Try a bottle of Herbine, a positive cure for all liver complaints. E. Harrell, Austin, Texas, writes: "I have used Herbine for over a year, and find it a fine regulator. I gladly recommend it as a fine medicine for dyspepsia." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The numerous Gainesville friends of L. S. Russell will regret to learn that he has suffered sad bereavements since his last visit to this city. On September 30 he lost his wife; a week later his brother died; in November his beloved mother was called from earth to heaven, and in December his sister-in-law died. Truly, he has had more than his share of bereavement in so short a time, and The Sun joins his friends in extending condolence. Mr. Russell is now president and general manager of the Jefferson Brick Company, with ten large brick plants, at Birmingham, Ala.
